WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Being a parent carer of a child or young person with additional needs can bring extra situations which are challenging to know how to handle. To help support parent carers navigate these we have created a range of workshops based on the subjects you have told us would be helpful.

The idea behind the project is to empower parent carers through Workshops for Information, Support and Education. All the workshops will be delivered or co-delivered by someone with lived experience of being a parent carer.

Each workshop will have 2 main parts. Part 1 will provide information and ideas of things you can try (strategies). Part 2 will give you time to discuss your own circumstances and form a plan of what you can try to help.

Alongside this we will also have a range of information workshops both face to face and online.

We are grateful to NHS Somerset for funding the program and to the organisations who are supporting the delivery.

Emotional Based School Avoidance

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Emotional Based School Avoidance (EBSA), also known as Anxiety-Based School Avoidance (ABSA), is a term used to describe children and young people who experience persistent challenges in attending school due to negative feelings, such as anxiety.

The sessions will look at the push and pull factors and strategies that can support. Push factors increase a child or young persons ability to attend school, and pull factors are those that reduce it and therefore make it more likely the CYP will stay at home.

Establishing routines and using visuals

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Many children with additional needs benefit from having routines. Routines can help children learn so much from learning how to perform a task such as getting dressed, brushing teeth etc. They can also be used to help children learn how the world works and what they need to do in order to interact successfully in it.

The sessions will look at how you can use visuals to support your child or young persons understanding and promote independence. You will have an opportunity to create visuals that you can use at home.

Social stories

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Social stories can provide children with a logical, almost step-by-step guide of how to handle a social situation. This helps them to feel more comfortable when dealing with social situations in real life, as they have a point of reference to help them along.

Social stories can be helpful to support a desired change in behaviour or to understand a change in circumstance like a house move. The sessions will show you how to design and use social stories.

Managing behaviour that challenges

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Behaviour that challenges can mean different things to different people. There is always a reason for behaviour that challenges. In many cases, it's a way for a person to control what is going on around them and to get their needs met. They also might be ill or in pain.

This session will look at potential triggers, early warning signs and practical strategies which can help. We will also look at how you can make a plan to help your child and those support them.

Helping your child through a transition

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Transitions and changes are part of all our lives and for a lot of people these can have minimal impact. However, for children and young people with additional needs, the impact of what might seem like a small transition can have a large impact.

Transitions can include a change in education setting, support worker, medical team or something which happens on a daily basis such as going from home to school.

This session will look at ways you can help your child during a transition and provide some practical strategies to use.

Helping your child manage their anxiety

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent Carers to succeed

Children and young people can feel anxious about different things at different ages and different times. Anxiety becomes a problem for children and young people when it starts to get in the way of their everyday life.

Severe anxiety can harm children's mental and emotional wellbeing, affecting their self-esteem and confidence. These sessions will provide you information about anxiety. We will help you to identify the signs to look out for and strategies you can use to support your child.

Helping your child understand the changes that come with growing up

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent Carers to succeed

Puberty and sexual development are a normal process, usually beginning between ages 10 and 15. Many young people go through puberty without any major difficulties but for young people with additional needs and disabilities there can be additional challenges. Growing up involves young people seeking to develop their own identity and sense of self. It can be a fascinating and scary time for them.

This session will help you to understand some of the additional challenges your young person may face and give practical suggestions about struggles that can help. We will also cover how to explain these changes in a way your young person can understand.

Understanding sensory differences

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Sensory processing refers to the brain's ability to organise information received from the senses, and to make appropriate responses. A broad range of children and young people are known to experience sensory processing difficulties including those who have no other known additional needs.

This session will provide an introduction to sensory processing, discuss some of the challenges that children may face and discuss ways to support them. You will have a chance to identify some of the things facing your own child and form a support plan.

Supporting communication through play

WISE UP WORKSHOPS
Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Play is an integral part of a child's learning. It teaches them how to interact with their environment, solve problems, learn new motor skills, and acquire language.

For children with additional needs play can help them to learn how to manage social situations and engage with the world around them.

This session will look at how you can use play based approaches to support your child and will include an introduction to block therapy.

Questions you may have

WISE UP WORKSHOPS

Empowering Parent
Carers to succeed

Is there a charge for the session?

We are able to offer the sessions for free due to funding which has been provided by NHS Somerset. To enable us make sure the session are helpful we will ask everyone who attends to complete a very short feedback form.

Does my child need a diagnosis?

No. Everyone in the partnership delivering the sessions believes you should have access to support when you need it. Sessions are open to all parent carers who live in Somerset.

I feel nervous about attending

It can feel uncomfortable entering a room of people you do not know. All the people attending are parent carers who are experiencing similar challenges.

If you are concerned please give us a phone call and we will arrange for our parent carer representative who will be at the session to talk to you beforehand so you will know someone.

What if I am unable to attend?

We understand that things can change and you may not be able to attend. We normally have a waiting list so it would be really helpful if you can let us know beforehand so we can offer the space to someone else.
